

Lee Mun Wah

A nationally-acclaimed lecturer and Master Diversity & Communications Trainer, Lee Mun Wah is a Chinese American community therapist, documentary filmmaker, Special Education educator, performing poet, Asian folk teller and author. He is also the Executive Director of StirFry Seminars & Consulting, which works with corporations, government agencies, educational institutions, and social agencies to facilitate diversity issues through healthy and authentic cross cultural relationships.

His film, The Color of Fear, received the Gold Medal for the Best Social Studies Documentary in 1995 from the National Media Network. The Color of Fear 2 won the Cindy International Film Festival's Silver Medal for Best Social Studies Award. His latest film, Last Chance for Eden, a six part film series on racism, sexism, and heterosexism was released in the Spring of 2003.

Lee Mun Wah believes when we value others for their uniqueness and differences, then we enhance the possibilities for our children and ourselves.

As part of the Opportunity Center's commitment to facilitating discussions on diversity...

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND

Mindfully Resolving Conflicts for Diversity Issues

Conflicts in schools can be the result of misunderstandings and stereotypes that can intensify tensions and create strong reactions. This training will help deepen the understanding between groups and individuals in conflict. Learning 'mindful' techniques on how to resolve conflicts will lead to an alignment of mutual outcomes and an on-going supportive process where everyone is valued, acknowledged, and respected. This training introduces participants to the dynamics of conflict and the need for appropriate and useful communication interventions and skill sets. Through a variety of activities, participants are introduced to facilitation and inquiry techniques to resolve conflicts.

- Thursday, May 14
- 1:00-3:00 pm
- Bldg. 34, Rm. 101-103
- Register via My Chemeketa; CRN 78885

For further information, please contact:

Patsy Antoine, antp@chemeketa.edu, 503-399-6084, or
Louanne Whitton, whil@chemeketa.edu, 503-399-6987