

Brain Basics

1. Effective teaching uses a variety of learning strategies because each brain is unique.
2. Sense and meaning are required for new learning to be stored.
3. Emotions are critical to learning.
4. Learners need time to process “how” as well as “what” they’ve learned.
5. Experiential learning is most effective.
6. Learning is enhanced by challenge; inhibited by threat.

